Matthew May Joins Ocean Power Technologies as Vice President, Global Business Development

MONROE TOWNSHIP, N.J., May 18, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) – Ocean Power Technologies (NASDAQ: OPTT), a leader in innovative and cost-effective ocean energy solutions, announced today that Matthew May has joined the company as Vice President, Global Business Development. In this new role, Matt will lead OPT’s global business development activities that include market and partnership development, marketing, sales, and commercial operations throughout all targeted markets. Prior to joining OPT, Matt was Director of Sales and Marketing for Tampnet, a provider of 4G mobile technology focused on the offshore oil and gas market, where he served as a key member of the executive team selling to Gulf of Mexico and North Sea operators.

Matt previously served in the U.S. Navy for 25 years as a Navy SEAL and rose to the rank of Command Master Chief. During the time he served in the military, he was assigned to operational units based in Europe, the Middle East, South America and in Virginia, including a tier one Naval Special Warfare unit focused on counter-terrorism and counter-proliferation of weapons of mass destruction. After five combat deployments in Bosnia, Kosovo, Afghanistan and Iraq, Matt selected orders to the Naval Recruiting Command in Millington, Tennessee where he was program manager in charge of all SEAL/SWCC recruiting for the US Navy. Matt then transferred to the Naval Special Warfare Unit Four as Command Master Chief combating Trans National Organized Crime in Central America, South America and the Caribbean.

“We’re excited to have Matt join OPT. His background in offshore oil and gas, telecommunications, security and defense, combined with his successes in sales and marketing and his long history of leadership will be instrumental as we execute on our growth strategy,” said George Kirby, President and Chief Executive Officer of Ocean Power Technologies.

Matt received a bachelor’s degree in Business Administration with a specialization in management, graduating Magna Cum Laude from Saint Leo University. He will be based out of Houston, Texas.
